The popular mobiles and fans on these two pages are handmade in Thailand using traditional techniques. Also known as Mulberry or 'saa' paper, the raw material is sourced from the bark of the Mulberry tree, which is fast growing and commonly found in Southeast Asia.

With its long fibres, the bark is perfect for making pulp which results in a stronger and more durable product than often found in other papers, whilst still remaining lightweight. See also our paper bags on page 227

Bird and bee houses

NEW RANGE

We all know that the wild world is under threat. One way we can all help is to provide easy homes for birds and bees.

These bee houses are designed to provide nest cells for solitary bees of which there are 240 species in the UK. Species such as the red mason bees and leafcutter bees nest in tubes or tunnels. You can encourage these busy pollinators by providing artificial nest sites such as those we are selling here. Bee houses must be positioned in full sun, facing south or east, and be at least a metre off the ground.

Resin figures

These resin statues are made in Thailand by Mr Paiboon and his wife who started making and selling resin dolls in 1996. They originate from Hmong hilltribes around Chiang Mai and have gradually built up their business having trained members of their family and friends. Originally hand carved, the resin is now poured into moulds and a hardening agent is added. After 10-15 minutes the pieces are removed from the moulds and left to dry for 1-2 hours. They are then sanded smooth and dipped in a stain for 10 minutes. When dry they are polished to create the beautiful high shine finish.
